MISSION: Soldiers from the 6th Iraqi Army Division with Coalition Force assistance conducted a search of the Al-Abbas Mosque to capture three anti-Iraqi force members.

Summary: Three military aged males shot at a Coalition forces patrol in South Baghdad from a van and then quickly fled to the Al-Abbas mosque with Coaliton and Iraqi Army forces in pursuit. Upon arriving outside the mosque, the three males dismounted their vehicle and ran inside the mosque. Coalition forces cordoned off the mosque area and searched the abandoned van while the 6th Iraqi Army Division requested permission to search mosque grounds. Coalition Forces located a significant amount of weaponry inside the van to include a machine gun, a sniper rifle, an anti-tank mine, rocket-propelled grenades, and a launcher used during the drive-by. The 6th Iraqi Army search of the mosque grounds yielded a cache inside a shed in the mosque parking lot. The Iraqi Army unit also questioned a government official and a local national citizen about the three AIF who fled into the mosque and the items located in the shed in the parking lot. They further asked these local citizens if they would accompany them during an interior search of the mosque. A local national agreed to accompany the Iraqi Army personnel during a search of the mosque, which yielded no weapons. However, as the Iraqi Army personnel continued searching the immediate area inside the mosque compound near the garden and in the minaret, significant caches were found. Nine of Eleven males discovered inside the mosque compound were detained. Local leaders confirmed the mosque did not sustain damage or disrespect as a result of the search.
